Fox News anchor KellyAnne Conway condemned two Democrats for comparing President Trump's border policies with Nazi Germany, saying the comments were "dangerous, despicable and wrong." "It crossed the line," Conway, counselor to the president, told host Chris Wallace on "Fox News Sunday." "Are you prepared to call her out?" Wallace said of the comments made by Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y., and Sen. Edward J. Markey, D-Mass. "I believe the Democratic Party has led us astray in respect to populism and moderation and many beautiful things," Ocasio-Cortez had said of the border policy. "Wow, that was weird," Wallace said, showing a clip of her calling Trump's border policies "Gestapo." "KellyAnne, I don't think you were prepared to see her say that. You and Trump are always talking about nicknames. How about 'Nazi?' " "I don't have a problem with that, because she's more than free to call him up and ask for a special meeting. I don't have a problem with that," Conway said. "If she wants to be a leader to her party and give a speech and say things that resonate and speak to her constituents, they should be listened to and they should be taken seriously." More:AOC, other Dems call Trump's border policy Nazi-like: 'This is what happens when you weaponize racism' More:Sen. Dick Blumenthal says JFK assassination called a 'hate crime' Before getting into the specific merits of the Nazi comparisons, Conway pointed out the Democrats had a lot of responses to the president's policies. "This is not their only response to you and Trump and your policies," she said. "But her name's calling in the top of almost every story about border enforcement and border policies and border crossings. Take a listen and judge for yourself." In that clip, Ocasio-Cortez said Trump wanted to round up and deport some five million
