Some things are more subtle. The game takes place in a fantasy world that, while real enough to be fanciful, has become an intellectual universe. The protagonist is the equal of her human counterparts, but she was educated in a magical school and, like them, she can speak to dragons and is among the two in the world's population of magic users.

5100-Year-Old-Lizard-Confirmed-As-This-Is-Not-Full-Of-Killing(Photo: DANIEL KLEIN, THE MAIN)A lizard discovered in Antarctica more than 4,000 years old has been confirmed by scientists as a 5100-year-old lizard, which is the oldest living reptile, according to the government of China.

Scientists said they also found fossils belonging to a 220 million-year-old amphibian, which is the largest ever discovered. The fossils were found in Gansu Province's Longlin County. The confirmed lizard discovered in Antarctica is the largest ever found, weighing more than 50 kilograms and up to 72 centimeters long. It lived in a water-filled lake, similar to today's wetlands. "Its back was about 10 centimeters wide and its body was covered by soft skin, just like a lizard's," said one of the scientists, Liu Yiming. "It was a big living thing. "It seems to have been living in the lake which was flooded by glaciers, and was hibernating during the winter," he added. "It was a warm and dry environment, which probably suited its diet." An expert at the College of Biosystems at the Chinese Academy of Sciences' Institute of Zoology, Liu and colleagues found the fossil after five years of investigation in the Longlin area of the Yellow River. He said that a newly discovered and oldest 220 million-year-old amphibian fossil is the largest ever found. It was more than 60 centimeters long and weighed 10 kilograms, and it appears to have been a large toad. "Its mouth-parts consisted of 17 teeth, indicating that it was still in the jaws stage of its evolution," Liu said. "It lived at the base of ancient forests, which belonged to the late Devonian period." Liu said the fossil was found in limestone deposits in the Longlin region in the province of Gansu, north-central China. Discovered back in the 1970s, he said that it is one of China's best-known fossil sites. Some of the other major finds in China include a 400 million-year-old shark, the first-ever dinosaur eggs, a 740 million-year-old egg, and the oldest dinosaur footprint ever, found in 2004 near Daohugou in southern China. The 400 million-year-old shark is a brachiosaurus -- the largest carnivore ever found. Citing "3D printing" and the size of smartphones, the United States president Donald Trump has promised the construction of a huge wall to protect Americans from illegal immigrants at the US-Mexican border. The idea for the wall was floated in April 2017, just three months after Trump's inauguration, when he said the wall would be "a big, beautiful, powerful wall." There is a massive movement of people trying to rush into the US from Mexico. Illegal immigrant families are often accompanied by minors in a hurry to join family members who have already reached the US, Reuters reported. Trump's calls for the wall have faced resistance not only from Democrats but also from some of his allies in Congress who argue it would not work and lead to billions of dollars being wasted. The concept of a wall has been used at various places throughout history, from the ancient Roman wall built by Emperor Hadrian to the Berlin Wall built under the rule of the Soviet Union in 1961. 5ec8ef588b
